Breakwater at Block Island, R. I.

ENGINEER OFFICE, U. S. ARMY, NEWPORT, R. I., August 11th, 1870.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office, until Saturday, the 17th day of September, 1870, at 12 o'clock M., for the construction of the substructure of a Breakwater at Block Island, R. I., for local purposes.

It will begin at a point on shore near "Sand's Landing" on the southeast part of the Island, and be built out to, and along a line joining "Clay Head" and "Five Foot Rock." Its total length will be about three hundred (300) feet beyond the low water line. The greatest depth of water on the line of the Breakwater is at its sea extremity, where there is sixteen (16) feet at mean low water. From thence shoreward, the bottom slopes up gradually to high water mark, the bottom being smooth sand underlaid with clay. The mean rise and fall of the tide is three and one quarter (3 1 4) feet.

The substructure of the breakwater will be stone simply dropped into the water so as to form a slope of three (3) base to one (1) perpendicular on the side toward the sea, and one (1) base to one (1) perpendicular on the side toward the land, and to be thirty (30) feet wide at mean low water level. The work must be begun at the shore end, and be finished up to mean low water level as it progresses from the shore.

The stone must be granite, of the best quality, so far as durability is concerned, and in pieces weighing not less than one and one quarter (1 1-4) tons, without regard to shape, except that there must be no slabs or thin pieces.

It is believed that this work can be done by vessels unloading their cargoes on the spot. In ordinary weather vessels can lie in the roadstead with perfect safety, though there will be times in the earlier progress of the work at least, when much time must be lost. The worst storms are from the southeast, and during storms from that quarter, the roadstead is untenable for vessels of any class.

To complete the whole substructure about fifty thousand tons of stone will be required, but at present the funds appropriated will, it is estimated, pay for not more than ten thousand tons. Proposals will be received only for the smaller amount, and no contract will be entered into for work to be performed after the 30th day of June, 1871.

Payments will be made monthly, reserving ten (10) per centum till the contract is fulfilled.

Proposals must state the price per ton at which the stone will be furnished and put in the breakwater, which price must include all charges whatsoever against the United States.

The stone must be deposited by the contractor under the supervision of an Engineer designated by the undersigned for that duty.

Proposals must state the earliest time at which work will be begun after acceptance of proposal.—Work once begun must be prosecuted with all practicable diligence.

Each proposal must be in duplicate, accompanied by a Guaranty in duplicate, with a printed copy of this advertisement attached to each proposal. Blank forms for proposals and guaranties will be furnished by this office on application, and any other information practicable to give.

The object of this advertisement being to give every responsible and capable party an opportunity to bid for the work, and to secure to the public the greatest amount of work with the funds appropriated, the right is reserved to reject any and all bids, if these objects are not thereby obtained.

Proposals must be addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed on the envelope, "Proposals for building Breakwater at Block Island, R. I."

G. K. WARREN,
Major of Engineers;
Bvt. Maj. Gen. U. S. A

The War.

It seems pretty well settled that the French army is retreating to the line of the Meuse. Outnumbered, defeated, and disorganized, it has no hope but in falling back to some point at which it can concentrate and reorganize The prospect for turning the scale in favor of France is even less than after the first defeat. It is not apparent that "all can be reestablished" so easily as Napoleon's dispatch after Mc. Mahons defeat indicated. Germany has on French soil a well organized and victorious army of not less than 600,000 men, commanded by able officers, and back of all the great strategist Von Moltke, himself equal to an army. It has not been two weeks since active hostilities commenced and Alsace and a large part of Lorraine has been overrun by the Prussians, while the French army is arriving at a point more than half-way back to Paris, and considers itsel victorious if it can gain the privilege of retreating. Such victories are not exactly what French soldiers have been accustomed to.

The empire can scarcely be said to exist. Napoleon could no doubt regain his ascendency by a decisive victory, but in reality it is other men that are ruling France just now, and affairs are conducted very much as if no such person as Napoleon III existed. At most he does nothing but obstruct, and when once Frenchmen find that they can get along without him, they may conclude to do so.

As was anticipated the war is stirring up the revolutionary spirit not only in France, but in neighboring States, and if peace is not restored within a brief period revolution may add a new feature to existing complications. The Monarchies of Europe have been banded together to suppress every popular uprising and the Spanish revolution was allowed to take its course only because it occured in a corner of Europe. Consequently it is necessary for revolutionists to seize an opportunity when some of the governments are embroiled. Italy is almost ripe for revolution and the dispatch of Victor Emanuel to Napoleon that if he left Italy, he never expected to come back, its sovereign shows what forces are silently but powerfully at work undermining has authority. Spain, too, waits an opportunity to proclaim a republic. She has sought in vain to find a king, and if she should find one, might not be much better off than now. It has been known that Napoleon would oppose a republic in Spain. With him out of the way the Spaniards may see it for their advantage to give up hunting for a king, and see what they can do in governing themselves.

Political Notes.

The Chicago Post says Mr. Frelinghuysen having concluded to decline the mission to England, President Grant has offered the place to Senator Trumbull. It is understood that he will not accept, preferring to remain in the Senate.

Hon. James L. Orr has published a letter announcing his adhesion to the Republican party of South Carolina. He says, for many years to come, that party must control the State, and that opposition to it will only augment and perpetuate the existing evils.

David S. Andrews, of Otisfield, was nominated yesterday, as the Republican candidate for representative for the Class District, composed of the towns of Otisfield, Casco and Naples. Mr. Andrews is a well educated and prosperous farmer, and his personal popularity will greatly increase the chance of Republican success in this closely contested district.

John A. Bingham has been renominated for Congress, by the Republicans of the 16th Ohio district.

The Legislature of Illinois, elected this Fall will elect in January a United States Senator in place of Richard Yates, whose term expires on the 4th of March next, and the question of who shall be his successor enters largely into local politics. There are three prominent candidates—Gen. John A Logan, Gen. J. M. Palmer, the present Governor, and Gen. Richard J. Oglesby, the former Governor—all strong men, with powerful support among the politicians and people. The general impression among well informed men there is that Logan's chances are the best, provided the other two candidates do not combine; but it is much too early to venture any prediction about the result of the contest.

The Chicago Post says that Mr. Frelinghuysen, having declined the mission to England, it has been offered to Mr. Trumbull, who will also probably decline.

The Republicans of Nebraska, convened in Lincoln on the 11th, indorsed the Chicago platform, the administration of General Grant, the economical legislation of Congress, and the people of Germany. David Butler of Lancaster was nominated for Governor. John Taffe was nominated by the same convention for re-election to Congress.

At the Waldo County Republican Convention held at Belfast on Wednesday, the following nominations were made: Senators, T. W. Vose of Winterport, and Nehemiah Smart of Searsmont; Clerk of Courts, W. G. Frye of Belfast; Treasurer, Geo. McDonald of Belfast; Commissioner, Stephen Strout of Freedom. Mr. Vose was a member of the House last winter, and Mr. Smart has had considerable experience in public affairs.

The Lewiston Journal, in speaking of the nomination of Col. Robie for representative from Gorham, says, "he has served in the House and Senate with great success, and will represent Gorham ably. Towns are showing their good sense by availing themselves, this year, of as much experience and ability as possible, in nominating their candidates for the legislature."

The Knoxville correspondent of the New York Times, says the recent judicial elections in East Tennesse have resulted in decided triumphs for the Republicans. In the Knoxville chancery division Chancellor O. P. Temple was elected by 3,000 majority. E. S. Hall, circuit judge, was elected by over 300 majority. Both are Republicans. This augurs well for the fall elections in that locality.

It having been reported that President Grant was opposed to the nomination of Horace Greeley for Governor of New York, the former denies the truth of the report. On the contrary, he expressed himself quite favorable to Mr. Greeley's nomination, and thinks that no candidate can be put in the field who can get more votes against John T. Hoffman, than Horace Greeley.

The taxes in the city of Brooklyn under a Democratic administration were during the year ending June 30 1870, $7,200,000 and it is expected that the sum required for the next year will be $10,000,000. Taxation in Brooklyn is at the rate of nearly four per cent. Here in Portland it is but 2.6 per cent. The Democracy propose to reform the finances of the country.

It is expected that both the labor reform and the prohibition parties in New Hampshire will put up separate candidates as they did last year. The prohibitionists are bitter in the extreme. The Democrats are said to be somewhat demoralized, while the Republicans are united and enthusiastic. Unlike the Republicans of Maine they do not make prohibition a part of their policy.

The Young Democracy are organizing in New York City.

Some prominent Republicans are discussing the appointment of the Hon. Hiram Walbridge of New York for Secretary of State in the event of Mr. Fish's retirement.

The Democratic State Central Committee of Missouri have issued a circular giving their reasons for recomending that no Democratic State ticket should be put in the field next Fall. They advise the election of all the Democrats possible to the Legislature.

The Hon. Ignatius Donnelly, who was not elected to Congress from Minnesota two years ago, is said to be again in the field with the intention of running off his friend, Gen. Averill.

The Controller of the Currency will, in a few days, issue a circular relative to the organization of national banks for the issue of gold notes. The circular will incorporate all the sections of the act providing for the three per cent certificates and for the redemption of the national bank notes

MASSACHUSETTS is to have a triangular if not a quadrangular political campaign. The nomination of Wendell Phillips for Governor by the prohibitory party is likely to introduce quite a lively element into the canvass in that State, particularly if Mr. Phillips should take the stump. Though a man of brilliant talents he knows nothing practically about the responsibilities of office holding. It would no doubt be a great benefit to him to experience some of the difficulties of enforcing the laws. Thus far in his career his freedom from official responsibility has enabled him to act the part of a universal cynic for which function nature seems to have lavishly endowed him. Official responsibility might take some of the fire out of his phillipics but would learn him to be more just. He is however in no great danger of having the office inflicted upon him, even if, as is probable, he should be supported by the Labor Reform party.

THERE IS A MOVEMENT toward railroad consolidation in Connecticut from Time to time during the past year, there has been talk of the lease of the Shore Line Railway by the New York and New Haven Railroad company, and of the consolidation of the great railroad lines of the State. A general consolidation act was before the Legislature, but like a similar movement in our own legislature last winter it was defeated. A bill allowing the New York and New Haven and Hartford and New Haven railroads to consolidate shared the same fate. The parties who were in favor of consolidation adopted the same expedient that has been resorted to in this State. The Committee of the Shore Line Railway company, appointed over a year ago, and a similar committee of the New York road have finally agreed upon terms for the lease of the former to the latter. Consolidation being unlawful, the seperate organizations will have to be continued year by year, until the legislature shall see fit to decree otherwise. It is however virtually consolidation.

It is estimated that six hundred thousand German soldiers are now in France, carrying the needle-gun, and after them come the reserves of the entire male population of able-bodied Germany. This mass is distributed in three parties, viz: The Army of the Saar, the Army of the Rhine, the Army of the South.

Frederick Charles commands the Army of the Rhine as leader of the centre: on his right, advancing southeast of Luxenbourg is the first army or that of the Saar, under Gen. Steinmetz; on his left is the third or Southern Army, led by Prince Frederick William, heir to the crown.

Under the latter are 250,000 men, under Frederick Charles 250,000, and under Gen. Steinmetz 70,000; total 570,000. Steinmetz has nearly 200 guns, the Crown Prince 600 guns, and Frederick Charles 660; total, over over 1500 guns. In other words, Steinmetz has 50 battalions of infantry, 48 squadrons or horse, and 32 battalions of artillery; Prince Charles has 197 bastallions of infanfry, 52 squacrons of horse and 110 batteries; the Crown Prince has 192 battalions of infantry, 164 squadrons of cavalry and 117 batteries.

General News.

The Congressional Globe for the last session has come up from the printers. It makes seven volumes, which is two more than any other session has required since the war began. The extra volumes consist almost entirely of speeches which were never delivered, but which the House gave leave for printing.

The pension office is receiving many inquiries from soldiers desiring to know if the time for making applications for pensions was extended by Congress. A bill for such extension failed, but one was passed extending the time for filing applications for additional bounty until next December. Under the law in the case all who served one year are entitled to fifty dollars, and those who served two years or longer to one hundred dollars.

Mr. Charles T. Brown of the geological survey of Demerara has found a magnificent fall over the Pocaro river, hitherto unknown. The river passes over a table land composed of slightly inclined beds of sandstone and conglomerate, 1,375 feet above the level of the sea, and descends perpendicularly in an unbroken fall of about 900 feet. The river is about 300 feet wide, and its greatest depth is from ten to fifteen feet.

There appears to be a large falling off in the population of the rural towns which will hardly be compensated by the increase in the manufacturing towns and a few other localities. The large falling off in Kennebunkport of 1296 shows too plainly the sad results that have followed the decay of the commercial interests of our State, which is also farther demonstrated by the great loss in all the towns along our extended coast. The voters of these several towns are particularly interested in the questions of policy which have been before Congress, which, if successful, during the next decade, may restore this great loss of population and substantial wealth. Voters of Maine, look well to this matter that faithful servants like Lynch, Peters and Hale are again at their post battling for the commercial interests of the towns whose wealth and importance are among the history of past decades.

GERMAN UNITY.—Dr. Lieber, who is a native of Prussia, wrote as follows about Germany in the "Encyclopedia Americana" in 1831—nearly forty years ago:

"It needs no prophetic eye to foresee that the time will come when Germany will sustain that struggle which England and France ended long ago; will become united and rest from the bloody conflicts, in which, for centuries, Germans have slain Germans, and which have wasted their wealth, checked their industry, impeded their development of public law, and extinguished in their literature that manliness which is so striking a feature in that of a neighboring nation, partly descended from them—conflicts most fully exhibited in that heartrending tragedy, the thirty years' war. It may be asserted, without paradox, that union is at present more necessary for Germany than liberty; at least, give her the former and the latter will soon follow."

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT.—The people of Hastings, on the Hudson, well remember the tall, straight form and the kindly genial manner of the dead patriot. He went there at the time of the breaking out of the rebellion and hired a small, neat cottage upon the Hill. At that time he had so little money that, small as his house was, he was unable to furnish it.

As soon as it had been ascertained that he had come from the South the residents of the place regarded him with suspicion. He was looked upon as a Southern spy, or as being one of the class of Southern sympathizers who undertook at one time to fire the principal buildings in New York. In his meditative moments he would stray occasionally to the acqueduct which runs through Hastings. His over-suspicious fellow villagers thought he visited the place for the purpose of poisoning the water with which New York was supplied. The more worthy among the residents of Hastings were not, however, slow to discover his worth; and both himself and his estimable lady soon gained the esteem of all with whom they became acquainted. Among those with whom he had made himself most popular, was a resident whose fame is as broad as the dominion of civilization. This gentleman shortly made himself acquainted with the circumstances of the new comer, and is generally believed to have set himself to work at improving them. However this may be, it is certain that Farragut had not been many weeks in Hastings before an anonymous letter reached him through the post-office. On opening it he was surprised to find that it inclosed $200 in money. With this, it is said, there was bought some furniture, of which the Admiral thought much to his dying day.

The children in the village were particularly fond of the Admiral. He always had a kind word for them, and whenever he was seen on the streets they congregated about him with childish fondness.

BOSTON AND NEW YORK—DEBT AND AREA.—The total funded and unfunded debt of the city of Boston is $21,818.441, against which is a sinking fund amounting to $9,215,831. The net debt is set down at $12,602,580. The net debt of New York is $20,705,075. The entire area of Boston is now 9 987 acres (15 1 2 square miles), with a valuation of $345,000,000 in real and $625,000,000 in personal estate. The city has 56 hotels and 24,130 dwelling houses. The area and valuation of the city have been much increased by the accession of Dorchester and Roxbury. The area of New York city is 13,352 acres (20 3-4 square miles) the most valuable 13,000 acres in the world.

AGE OF THE NEW MINISTERS.—Count de Palikao is soventy-four years of age; De la Tour d'Auvergne forty-six; Rigault de Genonilly sixty three; Piere Magne sixty-three; Henri Chevrau forty-seven; Jerome David forty-eight; Joseph Brann sixty-two.

Reunion of the Fryeburg Academy.

To the Editor of the Press:

A very pleasant social festival came off at the Academy Hall last Thursday Evening.

The students of '65 to '67 met their former Teacher Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Barrows, for a social and Literary entertainment. But brief notice was given, yet when the hour arrived a goodly number of the Alumni and Alumnae were on hand to enjoy again school days' happy hours.

The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Sewall, which was followed with music. An opening ode was written for the occasion by C. W. Lewis. An address was then delivered by Rev. Mr. Sewall on the part of the trustees, after this Mr. Barrows made a fitting address to his old scholars, touching upon many happy reminiscences of their connexion as Teachers and Scholars, and speaking such words as could not fail to spur them to a noble amition and noble gifts.

Then came the regular toasts of the evening, responded to by G. B. Barrows. F. Shirley, E. Robinson, V. Lang, G. P. Bradley, Seth Fife, J. B. Eaton, and C. W. Lewis.

The responses were all very happy, abounding in wit and anecdote, causing much fun and general hilarity.

Next in order the muse was summoned in the person of Miss Jennie Sewall, "to scatter roses over the scene." Her poem was well written and well received, bearing no slight marks of poetic fire.

Let the youthful poetess go on scattering her poetic garlands in the prairied west, whither we learn she is about to migrate.

The poem was followed by music, after which we were summoned below to ice creams, which, though slightly "cool" were not "coldly received.

After this part of the entertainment which is not to be lightly mentioned, the company returned to the hall where Charades, Music and "The famous Texan Orator" were listened to till the closing ode, written by Miss Edith Macmillan was read, and sung to the tune of Auld Lang Syne.

The occasion was one of so much enjoyment' it was decided to have another reunion next year on a broader scale. comprehending the general Alumni of the institution. We learn also that the proceedings of this entertainment are to be published next month, and any person wishing for copies can have them by applying to J. B. Eaton No 1 Cornhill Boston. SPECTATOR.

Temperance Convention.

An adjourned meeting of the Cumberland County Temperance Convention was held on Thursday, Aug. 18th, at Reception Room, City Hall, Ellery H. Starbird, Esq., presiding and A. Merrill, Esq., as Secretary. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Foster of Cape Elizabeth.

Messrs. E. H. Starbird, Albert Merrill and John Blake were selected as a committee to nominate a county committee. They subsequently reported the names of E. C. Andrews and Abial Smith, Portland; R. S. Smart, Cape Elizabeth; F. H. Cross, Pownal; Ezekel Strout, Standish; D. O. Moulton, Falmouth, and G. W. Plummer, New Gloucester. The report was accepted and these gentlemen were appointed county committee for the ensuing year.

The list of delegates was called over by the Secretary and it appeared that thirteen delegates were present, one from each of the towns of Casco, Cumberland, Cape Elizabeth, Falmouth, Freeport, New Gloucester, Pownal, Standish and Windham, and four from Portland.

On a motion to fill vacancies in the delegation, Mr. Ezekiel Strout of Standish urged filling the vacancies with out-and-out temperance men. He announced himself a thorough going prohibitionist, and in favor of a State constabulary, and he would not vote for any man, either for Governor or any other office, unless such candidate was a prohibitionist and State constabulary man. He had rather the Democrats should prevail than that Republicans who are not thorough going temperance men should be elected. Many of the temperance men had been seduced from their principles by promise of petty offices.

The county committee retired to nominate a list of candidates for county officers and while they were out Rev. Mr. Foster of Cape Elizabeth addressed the convention.

The chairman of the county committee announced that they should not be able to report until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the convention adjourned to that time.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Andrews of Portland from the County Committe reported the following ticket to be supported for County officers

Senators.—R. S. Smart, Cape Elizabeth; E. H. Starbird, Falmouth; Ezra Towle, New Gloucester; Ezekiel Strout, Standish.
Treasurer.—Thos. Pennell, Portland.
Sheriff.—Eben N. Perry, Portland.
County Attorney.—David H. Cole, Naples.
Commissioner.—William Small, Raymond.

On a motion to adopt the ticket reported Mr. Andrews of Portland, made some remarks insisting upon independent nominations by the temperanse party as now organized. He would have had the party nominate a candidate for Governor without waiting for the action of the Republican party. But they had seen fit to wait and to adopt the nominee of the Republican party.

The Temperance party do not expect to prevail this year, but they must lay the foundation for success in the future. Marcus Morton was not elected Governor of Massachusetts until he had been a candidate for some fifteen years. The Temperance party must keep up their organization and success will surely crown their exertions. Mr. Dow had always been opposed to the formation of a third party and when he was elected Mayor he was elected by the Whig party. Some of his blood relations had, by election to petty offices, been drawn away from their allegiance to the Temperance party. But let us stand together few though we may be. Let us, like the free-soil party keep up the organization and, like that party we shall eventually triumph.

Mr. John T. Walton said all they had got to do now was to hold on to the slack, and get all you can besides. The Democratic party had no principles at all and the Republican party had forsaken the strongest principle upon which the party was founded, viz: the temperance plank that was in the platform. The constabulary law he acknowledged was badly managed, especially in this vicinity, but the law did great good throughout the State while it was in force. He spoke of the Republican nominations for Senators and said that one of them was an open and avowed friend of of the liquor dealers, and another had been concerned in the liquor trade. All of them would prove recreant to the Temperance party upon any questions of temperance that might come before the Legislature. We may not inflict heavy blows now but we shall go on conquering and to conquer, for our principles must prevail.

Rev. Mr. Foster of Cape Elizabeth, concluded his remarks, which were broken off by adjournment in the morning. He counselled union of the temperance men upon the ticket presented, and that the temperance party should vote for none but those who would support the principles of the party in whatever station they might be placed.

Mr. Norwood of Portland, and Mr. Strout of Standish, made a few remarks in favor of supporting the temperance ticket.

Mr. Douglass of Cape Elizabeth, gave the State Temperance Committee a drubbing for "selling out" the temperance party by adjourning the proposed State Temperance Convention without day. He should not have felt worse than he did if the members of the committee had been found drunk in the ditch. Bro. Walton had spoken of what a perfect hell the city of New York was; but there was no necessity of going so far to find a bad place. Portland was fully equal to it according to its size. The speaker took a rather discouraging view of the situation. He was opposed to licensing any one to sell intoxicating liquors, but had father) if it must be sold let everybody sell it until the public are satisfied and then a stop will be put to the sale of it.

Mr. Walton replied to some of Mr. Douglass' remarks and thought he took too discouraging a view of the prospects of the temperance party.

Mr. Douglass insisted upon the points he had made, and said there was more intemperance men than there was forty years ago.

Capt. Marston of North Yarmouth, said he was one of the old temperance men. This was the first convention he had ever attended, and he was glad they had nominated a temperance ticket. He alluded to the promise of the Mayor to conduct his administration upon cold water principles. He believed the Mayor had a tumbler of water in one hand and a tumbler of liquor in the other. He did not believe in the temperance principles of Sidney Perham, and believed he would sell them for the sake of the office to which he had been nominated.

The ticket reported by the County Committee was then unanimously adopted, and on motion of Mr. Parsons of Falmouth, it was voted that the County Committee organize town committees, and have ballots printed and sent to the different towns. The convention then adjourned.

There was a larger attendance in the afternoon, but at no time during the day did the whole number of delegates, spectators and reporters come up to forty.

War Notes.

Telegrams from Paris via London Thursday morning give a resume of events since Sunday: Sunday the French army engaged the Prussians before Metz. The latter suffered heavy losses. The French retired on Verdun. On Monday the Emperor was at Gravellotte with 60,000 men. Subsequently engagements occurred at Longueville and at other places. The French are constantly fighting and retreating, contesting every step. On Tuesday the Emperor passed through Verdun and reached Rheims. A dispatch says Marshal Bazaine fought all day with the combined armies of Prince Frederick Charles and General Von Steinmetz between Dochart and Thionville, and repulsed them. Gen. Frossard is reported severely wounded. Another dispatch says an obstinate struggle occurred near the Mars la Tour on Wednesday. It is thought that the engagement was general, as large numbers of the wounded of both sides are arriving at Beicy, and the Prussians are reported to have been driven back on the Moselle. On the contrary a Prussian official report says that the battle of Tuesday was very severe and they lost many men. The enemy was driven in upon Metz with severe loss after a combat of twelve hours. The Prussians lost two generals. The details state that Marshal Bazaine while endeavoring to fall back from Metz to Verdun was attacked at 9 o'clock in the morning by the 5th division and forced to face about; the Prussians were admirably firm throughout. They sustained the attack of the French corps, among them the Imperial Guard. After fighting gallantly for six hours the Prussian 5th division was reinforced from the 10th corps. This reinforcement arrived opportunely. The French found that a prolongation of the contest would be impossible, and retired upon Metz with the loss of 2000 prisoners, 2 eagles and 7 cannon.

A dispatch from Berlin via London states that another attempt has been made for peace between France and Prussia. The Queen's messenger arrived at Berlin Wednesday with proposals of peace from the English cabinet. The Emperor of the French expressed his readiness to treat for peace, and proposals were made through Lord Lyons. The King of Prussia and Bismark were telegraphed to at their headquarters. The King replied that if Napoleon wished for peace he must ask for an armistice in the usual way. The issue must be decided either by arbitrament or war.

It is reported that the Prince Royal of Prussia was wounded in one of the battles around Metz.

The World's London dispatch of Wednesday night says it is believed on the best authority that the French will concentrate at Chalons with 300,000 men and 1000 guns, and that the Prussians will attack them with 500,000 men and 1400 guns. All the actions of to-day, yesterday and Monday must be considered as preliminary to the greatest conflict the world has ever seen.

The French capital is in a condition of ill suppressed revolution. All sorts of stories hourly reach us about preparations for flight, but they originate in the agitation at the Tuileries and the nervous ill health of the Empress, which keeps all about her in a state of fear and excitement.

The Imperial Prince is positively at Paris with his mother.

The feeling at Paris neither Orleanist or Republican, but anger and a determination to insist upon a responsible and capable leadership for the armies.

In North Germany great commercial distress exists. Loans are not taken and there is undoubtedly a pressure upon the government for action, and much fear of a prolonged, exhausting conflict.

The sortie from Strasbourg is of no consequence. The real work is between the Meuse and Marne and upon the chalk plains of Champaigne near Chalons.

La Presse says the report that the Prussians had demanded an armistice to bury their dead is fully confirmed and praises Marshal Bazaine for not according to it. The Prussians must bury the dead and the army continue its work of annihilating the enemy. The French forces are increasing constantly and the Prussians decreasing. The hour of complete victory for France is near.

There is great activity on the fortifications of Paris. Thousands of men are at work putting the defences in better condition.

Advices from Paris state that Emile Ollivier and his wife have fled from France to Italy. On their progress through the French territory they met with the most vehement expressions of hatred from the people. At nearly all the stations the deposed Premier when recognized, was greeted by a storm of hootings and yells of hate.

A Paris despatch of Wednesday evening is as follows:

The victory I announced yesterday is confirmed on all sides. The minister of war has received official news. The despatch announces that the strategical movement continues with perfect success. The Journal Official preserves the same persistent silence and the people are accustoming themselves to the reserve which the government feel obliged to guard the news of military events. Everywhere perfect confidence reigns and the wise counsels of the press have contributed not a little to this resignation. The defeat of the enemy and his retreat has developed perfect confidence in the final result of the war. The morale of the entire army is excellent and the confidence and courage of the soldiery without bounds. Their constancy has not abandoned them for a moment.

Gaillardett also states that the news of the affair at Gravellotte was received with great rejoicing and that the enthusiasm of the people has been greatly augmented, if it were possible, by the proclamation of Marshal McMahon, and says that it is hoped that the junction of Marshal's McMahon's and Bazaine's corps corps will be accomplished and that this news, together with the advantages gained in the last few days, helps us to forget our first reverses.

AN amusing but provoking incident occurred on the ferry boat plying between Detroit, Mich., and Windsor last week. A pickpocket was seized just as he was in the act of picking a lady's pocket, and detained to be handed over to the authorities. In a fit of desperation he managed to elude his captors by taking a "header" in the stream. On arising to the surface he struck out boldly for the American shore, to the consternation of his keepers and the infinite amusement of all who witnessed the scene. Two fellows who had been loafing about the wharf at once sprang into a boat, cast off the painter and set her afloat, and began to row for dear life towards the swimmer, with the expressed object of recapturing him. "They rowed and they rowed in their little canoe" after the thief, who still kept striking out, puffing like a porpoise, until they got a goodly distance out into the river, when they seized the swimmer, and after a struggle, apparently, got him aboard, amid the cheers of those on shore. The "little game," however, was soon clear to all. The boatmen were none other than the thief's "pals," who, on making sure of their friend, struck out for Detroit with even more vim than they started out with; the thief turning now and again to the crowd on the Windsor wharf and applying his thumb to his nose, wagged his fingers at them in a facetious and provoking manner, after which all of them would join in a hearty "Haw! haw!" One of the ferry boats then put off to try and overtake the vagabonds, but without success. They speedily gained the D. & M. Railway depot and disappeared.

Patents have been granted this week to John W. Stockwell of Portland, for water pipe machine; and to Hiram Bigelow, of Skowhegan, for chisel for cutting gains.

Gold yesterday opened at 116 3-4 advanced to 117 1 8, then dropping, closing at 116 7-8.

Yesterday was a very warm day, although there was a fresh breere. The mercury stood at 88° for some hours during the day, At 9 o'clock in the evening it was 85.

The Democratic County Convention meets in Reception Hall at ten o'clock this morning.

A couple of fort soldiers yesterday were abusing and ill-treating a young man who appeared to be in a partial state of intoxication, on Middle street, when a stout teamster came along, jumped off his team, rolled up his sleeve and informed the soldiers if they wanted to fight to take him. The soldiers concluded that discretion was the better part of valor, and marched off.

[illegible]ne Regiment Excursion.

[illegible] 17th Maine Regiment Association [illegible] their eighth anniversary in a very pleasant manner. At 8 o'clock the members and invited guests assembled at the headquarters and then proceeded by a pleasant sail in the steamer Lily to Evergreen Landing, Peak's Island. The day was most delightful. Owing to the extension of the terms of membership, by which all the enlisted men who have been honorably discharged are admitted to full membership, the attendance was unusually large.

Arrived at the island an hour was spent in quiet conversation, when breakfast was served in style, after which a business meeting was extemporized in the grove. An amendment was passed to the by-laws admitting all enlisted men honorably discharged to equal terms of membership without an assessment except at annual meetings. The officers for the [illegible]ent year were elected as follows:

President—Col. T. A. Roberts.
Vice Presidents—Gen. C. P. Mattocks and Lt. Isaac S. Faunce.
Secretary—Adjutant Chas. W. Roberts.
Treasurer—Capt. Joseph A. Perry.
Directors—Adj. P. S. Boothby, Q. M. Sergt. John Yeaton, Jr., Lieut. Josiah Remick, Lieut. A. B. Abbott, Sergt. D. Gookin.
Orator—W. H. H. Pillsbury; Alternate, J. O. Rice.
Poet—Gen. C. P. Mattocks; Alternate, Adj. C. W. Roberts.
Historian—G. W. Parker.
Toast Master—Major Wm. H. Green.

A very eloquently prepared history of the members of the Regiment was then delivered by Gen. Mattocks, in which he gave the condition of the members at the present time.

Voted that ten honorary members be elected, and accordingly ex-Mayors Jacob McLellan and William L. Putnam, Mayor Benjamin Kingsbury, Hon. John Lynch and Charles P. Kimball, Esq., were elected,

It was also voted to leave the subject of the proposed general reunion of all the associations of Maine regiments next year to the Directors.

Mayor Kingsbury, Capt. J. O. Winship, President of the 5th Maine Regiment Association, Capt. Geo. W. Parker, W. H. H. Pillsbury, Mr. Somerby, of the P. L. I.'s, and others then addressed the meeting in speeches at once eloquent, appropriate and witty.

An hour or two was now consumed in various pleasant forms of amusement. Gen. Mattocks had his yacht Addie there and invited the Mayor and an extemporized staff to take a sail over to the orchard on the front side of the island as a military call on the Association of the 1st, 10th and 29th Regiments, where they were engaged in a clam bake.

At 3 1-2 o'clock, when all had returned from the rambles by land and by water, the clam bake was announced as ready, and all gathered around as the smoking kelp was removed. It is unnecessary for us to describe the ingredients of a clam bake. Suffice it to say that the appetites of all had become sharpened, so that the clams, lobsters, corn, potatoes and eggs tasted most palatably. Stories and laughable incidents were related of active campaign life, and some rifle practice and foot ball were indulged in.

At 5 o'clock the steamer Lily appeared at the wharf and the company had to strike tents and pack the commissary utensils for the homeward return.

On the arrival home the Association was requested to march to the headquarters, No. 88 Middle street, for some unknown purpose. When all were seated, Rev. Capt. J. O. Thompson rose and presented Adjutant Charles W. Roberts with a valuable ebony gold headed cane, prefacing the beautiful gift with some suitable remarks relative to the general popularity of the recipient. The Adjutant was taken completely by surprise, though he said he was surprised at nothing good or generous on the part of his brother soldiers, and he made a pertinent and grateful reply, thanking them kindly for the expressions of regard which prompted the gift.

Sergt. David Gookins, of this city, made a very beautiful speech, in which he urged the brothers to seek to unite together even in a far higher brotherhood than this, among the followers of Christ, and try to make sure of the association of the faithful beyond all earthly scenes of happiness. Bro. G.'s remarks produced a deep sensation.

Col. Roberts then gave expression to his feelings at the incident just described, in which he was completely overcome with his emotions.

Adjutant P. S. Boothby, of Westbrook, offered a sentiment which evidently went from his heart to the hearts of all.

Speeches were also made and sentiments offered by J. O. Rice, Esq., of Portland, Mr. J. D. Richardson, of Lewiston, and Mr. Edmund D. Field, of this city, all of which were a most hearty expression of good feeling, after which the meeting adjourned.

This was the best anniversary that the Association has ever known, and the large numbers and the kindly sentiments expressed served to cement the feeling of brotherly love formed while in the service of the country, to a considerable extent.

We would mention that a few copies of Major Houghton's admirable history of the 17th Regiment were saved from the great fire and can be obtained of Gen. Mattocks.

ALLEGED ARSON.—Mrs. Mary J. Stafford was arrested on Tuesday, upon suspicion of setting fire to one of the block of buildings on Fore street, known as the "Stafford Block," and which are of unenviable notoriety. The fire occurred on the night of July 22d. The buildings were recently, if they are not now, owned by Mrs. S. A Mrs. Stratton had been arrested on suspicion, but, after examination was discharged. The complaint, as we are informed, is made by the insurance companies who have policies upon the property. The examination of Mrs. Stafford was commenced yesterday in the Municipal Court and continued to this morning. Messrs. Howard & Cleaves appear for the State and Messrs. Strout & Gage and M. P. Frank for Mrs. Stafford.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—A little son of Mr. A. Q. Leach, of this city, about 8 years old, while on a visit to Falmouth on Wednesday had one of his legs broken short off, above the knee, by the kick of a horse. Dr. Tewksbury of Falmouth set the bones and yesterday the little fellow was in a comfortable condition.

WESTBROOK.—Yesterday James Stover was brought before Trial Justice Moses G. Dow charged with a murderous assault at Saccarappa. Respondent pleaded guilty and was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury in September. F. M. Ray appeared for the State.

CLAM BAKE.—The Merchants' Clam Bake Association propose to have a grand clam bake at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the rocks in the rear of Cliff Cottage, Cape Elizabeth. To ensure success one hundred tickets must be sold, which can be had at Railroad Ticket Agency, corner of Fore and Exchange streets.

The following names of the aged Brotherhood were omitted in the list published yesterday: Joel Allen, age 70; William Boyd, 67; Nathan Cummings, 74; Ferdinand C. Pudor, 65; Henry Trefethern, Joshua Stevens, 66; Francis Radoux's age should be 80 and Curtis Meservey's 74.

Reunion of the 1st, 10th and 29th Regiment.

The annual reunion of these veteran regiments, which our readers may remember are considered as one organization, took place at Peak's Island yesterday. About one hundred and thirty of the members were present and many were accompanied by their ladies.

This Association tolerates but a few formalities, hence the time was taken up in sports and in eating the bountiful dinner and clam bake which all pronounced to be most excellent.

The proposition to have the next re-union in Portland (the islands) was ordered by a hearty "Aye" from everybody.

The sense of the meeting was taken on the invitation to join all the Maine Regiments in a Grand Re-union of Maine Soldiers in 1871 at Portland. At first the majority seemed opposed to giving up their own joyful celebration for an uncertainty, but at last the executive committee was instructed to favor the movement.

A very laughable chapter of chronicles from the pen of Chaplain Webster and a poem by his good lady were read by Capt. King, and were greeted with rousing cheers.

Some excellent practice was shown by the auger brigade, but the general disposition of those present was to gather in knots and talk over old times.

Major Gould reported that his history was completed and ready for the press as soon as the required number of subscribers was guaranteed. All came forward thereupon and subscribed and pledged themselves to do their utmost for the success of this work, in which all feel a deep interest, and the regiment may well feel proud of the forthcoming history, for the officers and others who have read the manuscript say that it is the most reliable, interesting and complete regimental history yet written. Some twenty or more beautiful lithograph engravings of the officers, which number will be increased, were shown; these have been engraved expressly for the work, and will add to the value of the book.

The following officers were chosen for the coming year: President, Gen. George L. Beal; Vice Presidents, Gen. George H. Nye, Colonel Charles S. Emerson, Major Charles Walker, Maj. Almon C. Pray and Dr. Josiah F. Day; Quartermaster, Charles F. King; Commissary, William O. Fox; Chaplain, Rev. Charles H. Webster; Orator, Rev. Leonard G. Jordan; Historian, Maj. John M. Gould; Secretary and Treasurer, Major John M. Gould; Executive Committee, Majs. Wm. P. Jordan, Granville Blake and Capt. Lorenzo D. Stacy.

Gen. Beal having requested that rotation in office be observed, Gen. Nye was elected President.

SHOOK DOWN.—We mentioned in the Press of yesterday the raid made by the deputy marshals on two houses of bad repute, Wednesday night, one of which was the house on the corner of Hancock and Federal streets, kept by Matilda Thompson. In the latter house they found a well dressed man, apparently above the society in which he was, sleeping as from the effects of drugged liquors. Thursday morning he came to the station and stated that after the officers left the house, he was turned out of doors by the inmates, and when he came to his senses missed some $40 in money which he had the previous evening. He stated that he went to the house with a man named William McCullom. Deputy Decelle arrested soon after both McCullom and Matilda Thompson, but no money was found on them.

ANOTHER MYSTERY SOLVED.—Chemists being unable to discover the ingredients in fragrant SOZODONT, which removes all stains from the teeth and imparts such a peculiar roiskess to the gums, the public are hereby informed that it is a preparation from the Bark of the QUILLAYA SAPONARIA or Soap Tree of Chili, imported for the first time into this country for this special purpose. Such is the purifying and innocuous effect of this rare botanical agent, that it removes discolorations from the most fragile textile fabrics, without injuring a single thread.

THE POLITICAL TROUBLES BEFORE THE COURTS.

RALEIGH, Aug. 18.—Judge Brooks has ordered Kirk to make returns of the writs and prisoners before him at Salisbury. Twenty-three prisoners have arrived there. Gov. Holden sent for Chief Justice Pierce, who arrived last night. The Governor proposed to obey the writs to-day which had been issued here. Some sixteen or eighteen of them arrived here this afternoon. After the writs issued by Judge Pierson failed, Judge Brooks issued writs under the 14th amendment for the delivery of all prisoners, and ordered a return to be made to him to-day at Salisbury. Other arrests have been made recently.

Turner, editor of the Sentinel, and 23 others, have arrived at Salisbury, and were immediately brought before Judge Brooks. Kirk was allowed until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning to make a return. The prisoners were released on their recognizance. Writs have been granted for thirty more parties who are still under arrest. Bergen arrived in Raleigh this afternoon with the prisoners for whom Judge Pierson had some time ago issued writs. A motion was made by the counsel for dismissal of the petition and a retraction of the same upon the production of Wiley, charged with the murder of Stephens. Gov. Holden's counsel made a counter motion for their commitment upon a bench warrant on the affidavit of Bergen. Both motions lie over until to-morrow morning, Judge Pierson bailing Wiley in the meanwhile in $5000. Eighteen other prisoners brought up to this city are still under Gov. Holden's guard.

A CALL ON AUSTRIA FOR REVENGE.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Le Gaulois says Pierre Bonaparte has gone to Corsica. The Paris journals comment bitterly upon the attitude of Austria, which is neutral in the present struggle when with barely one hundred thousand troops she might avenge Sadowa.

A DIRE EXTREMITY.

Prince Napoleon has sent all his valuables to Italy. The prefect of the Rhine urges the destruction of all the railways and bridges and the sending of all able-bodied men to Chalons. During the last meeting of the Corps Legislatif a great crowd of people collected around the hall to hear the war news. The national guard was at its post to preserve order but no soldiers were seen.

MINISTERIAL DECEIT.

As the commencement of the session the Count de Palikao, the new Minister of War spoke as follows: The Chamber will understand that I cannot give the precise details as to the number of troops engaged, or the casualities. I cannot even state the result of the engagement, but I may say that the enemy has made an ineffectual attempt to capture Pfalsburg, and have lost 15,000 men, killed. This repulse has had a great effect both in the enemy and the people of that part of France. The moment the Government has information of the great movement now taking place I will communicate.

Deputy Jules Favre, then took the floor and requested that the utmost severity be shown to the rioters and assassins of Villatte.

PREPARING FOR THE SEIGE.

M. Thiers suggested that in case of the seige of Paris the peasants be allowed to enter the city with their grain and cattle, and that the State reimburse them for their property. He also recommended that the Chamber now meet daily. Minister Duruerrois in reply said that the Government had intended to fully provision Paris. The Deputies decided to meet again to-day.

A DOUBLE INDEMNITY.

The following news is official:—The officers of the French fleet now in the Baltic have received orders to claim at each commercial port of Prussia an indemnity double the amount of each contribution exacted by the Prussians in those ports of France now under their control.

THE DEFENCES OF PARIS.

The entire garrison of Paris is busy day and night making cartridges. The Opinion Nationale nevertheless complains of Count de Palikao's sluggishness. By Saturday 1000 guns will be mounted on the Paris fortifications, one fourth served by inexperienced hands. Gen. Mellient has been assigned to the command of the command of the Garde Mobile. Marshal Bazaine has again stopped all private telegraphing as by that means news reaches Berlin by the way of London.

PARIS GOSSIP AND RUMORS.

It was rumored this morning that a demonstration would be made around the hall of the Corps Legislatif about 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Gaulois says encouraging dispatches have been received from Marshal Bazaine, but they must be kept secret as yet to prevent any hints of the Marshal's plans from reaching the enemy.

Le Figaro proposes a present of a sword of honor to Marshal McMahon, and the subscription for that purpose is already very large.

The chateau Chambard has been placed at the disposal of the authorities by the Count Chambard as a military hospital. It contains 440 rooms, 300 of which are unfurnished, and all have chambies admirably adapted for uses to which their owner devoted them.

THE LABORS OF THE AMERICAN MINISTERS.

Mr. Washburne, the American minister, finds himself overwhelmed in consequence of assuming the protection of Prussian subjects.

L'Avenier says that all the military authorities approve of the retreat to Metz.

BEHAVIOR OF THE PRUSSIANS.

Edmund About, correspondent of Le Soir, in describing the entrance of the Prussians into Saverne, says that they do not maltreat the country people, but exact requisicions of them in proportion to the population. Large sums of money and enormous quantities of bread, tobacco, wine, beef and forage are demanded. At all places where the people resist the Prussians they are very cruel, but otherwise they are disposed to be orderly, quiet and kind. Many of the peasants kill their horses to prevent the Prussians from taking them.

A SUMMARY OF OPERATIONS.

La Patrie gives the following resume of information received from its private sources dated Aug. 18th: The army under Marshal Bazain resting upon one of the strongest places in the world occupied a position near Metz, which enabled it to check the enemy and gain precious time. The Prussians decided to turn Metz, but Bazaine knew their intention and crossed the Moselle in several places at the same time. He was not surprised, as has been said. He knew he must get the enemy and was prepared by crossing the Moselle, but the Prussians endeavored to cut the French line four times. They attacked and were repulsed with great loss. The army of Bazaine continued its march and may be considered as certain to make a junction with the corps of McMahon and Trochu. This result the Prussians have not been able to prevent and it changes the situation vastly.

Marshal Bazaine will then be at the head of larger forces than those opposed to him, and when he wishes may assume the offensive.

TROCHU IN COMMAND AT PARIS.

PARIS, Aug. 18,—Evening.—Gen. Trochu has been appointed commander in chief of all the forces at Paris and has issued a proclamation counseling order and calmness, not only in the streets, but a spirit of resignation under the trials consequent upon the situation. He says that France must have the demeanor of a great military nation, conducting its own destinies, and the government will gain the confidence of the people by showing the greatest confidence in them. He appeals to all men and all parties, saying that he belongs himself to no party save to that of this country and declares that all good citizens must by moral restraint keep down those who see in the public misfortunes only an opportunity to satisfy their own detestable ends.

The Senate was in session to-day. The Corps Legislatif has adjourned to await further news from the scene of hostilities.

The Moniteur de la Flotte publishes a list of eleven German vessels captured since the beginning of the war.

THE TRIBUNE'S SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Our special writes from Chalons, Monday, Aug. 15th, This is the Emperor's birth-day but there was no fete in honor of the occasion.

An alarm was sounded this evening at 10 o'clock and the artillery was put in motion and went forward to Blasure and there found the railway cut and fell back. No railway communication now exists between Chalons and either Metz or Verdun. We do not know where the main French body is, but the Prussian vanguard is nearer Chalons than Bazaine is, and there is no force capable of resisted an attack. Thus far nothing but cavalry is heard of, and that yesterday was within 20 miles of Chalons, and were destroying the railways at will.

Our special writes from headquarters of the 2d army corps Friday, Aug. 12th, as follows: Should the French not accept battle at Metz two corps will be left to man the fortress while the main body will continue their march for Paris. The Prussians have at least 600,000 men on French soil, and as many more in reserve on German soil. All the talk of peace before the occupation of Paris is laughed at.

Our correspondent at headquarters of the Crown Prince on Friday, writes as follows: We are daily advancing from village to village. Alsatian sympathies are altogether French, but the inhabitants are treated kindly by the Germans except where the peasants commit hostilities. No compulsory military service will be enforced on them. Wagons for the wounded are required and the sale of provisions is compelled. Nothing is exacted except necessaries and everything paid for. The Crown Prince declares that he makes war on the French government and not the French people. McMahon's corps is almost destroyed, no remnant being found as the Crown Prince pushes steadily forward against the French right flank.

Tuesday's battle is a crowning proof of French falsehood and concealment. Count Palikao declared in the Corps Legislatif that the Prussians had been forced to abandon their attempt to interrupt the French retreat and that Bazaine was pursuing his road unmolested to Verdun and Chalons. While he was speaking the-Prussians were attacking the French, and at nightfall one portion at least of Bazaine's army had been forced to abandon the road to Verdun and were again shut up in Metz. It is more than ever plain that no considerable part of the French army has ever succeeded in getting far on the road from Metz to Verdun. The delay, to whatever cause due, gave the Prussians time to come up, and they were able on Tuesday to attack with a vanguard strong enough to arrest the French retreat and bring four French corps into action. When Bazaine found that he could not shake off the Prussian pursuit he resolved to crush their single corps before its supports could arrive. For hours the 3d Prussian corps, which was supported only by the cavalry divisions which had first attacked, was compelled to bear the blunt of the vigorous onslaught from twice or thrice its own numbers. Towards the close of the day, reinforced by the 10th, parts of the 8th and 9th corps, the Prussians resumed the offensive and when night fell the French army was again divided, and it is doubted whether either of the main roads from Metz to Verdun remain open to Bazaine. Three French corps heretofore unscathed, besides Frossard's and the Imperial Guard, were brought into action, which, on the French side, was a general engagement; while on the Prussian side a large part of the two armies of Steinmetz and Prince Frederick Charles were not on the field, and apparently not a single battalion of the Crown Prown, who is believed to be advancing steadily for Chalons.

THE BATTLE OF TUESDAY—A FRENCH VICTORY CLAIMED.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—An official dispatch from Marshal Bazaine, dated 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, says:—"Yesterday, late in the afternoon, we gave battle between Doncourt and Bronville. The enemy were driven back and we bivouacked on the position we had taken. I halted in my movements for several hours in order to bring up a full supply of munitions. We had before us Prince Frederick Charles and Gen. Steinmetz."

The following dispatch is not official but is given to the public by the ministry:

"Verdun, Wednesday.—The battle still continues on the side of Mars la Tour and seems to be going in our favor. A number of wounded French and Prussian soldiers have been brought into Briey. A force of 1200 Prussians is encamped on the plateau between Briey and Saint Lean. They send out couriers who have entered Briey. Trustworthy parties who have arrived here from Mars la Tour speak of a heavy engagement there yesterday with a large portion of the Prussian army, which they say was charged with great vigor by our cavalry and Garde Imperial and was thrown back on the Moselle. Thionville still remains in our hands. The Prussian columns recently approached too near the town and was saluted with a discharge from the artillery. The enemy fell back with precipitation and have since kept at a respectful distance."

FURTHER DETAILS OF TUESDAY'S BATTLE.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—The following additional details of Tuesday's battle near Doncourt and Bronville have been obtained from official sources:—Prince Frederick Charles attacked our right and was firmly met. The corps of Gen. Argand, at Rezonville, hastened into action, which ceased only after the Prussians had repeatedly attacked us and were as often repulsed. Towards night fresh troops sought to turn our position, but were beaten off. Our losses are serious. Gen. Batville is wounded. By 8 o'clock in the evening the enemy was repulsed along the entire line. He had 120,000 men engaged.

FIGHTING FOR A POSITION.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Times says that all day Monday and a good part of Tuesday the French were fighting their way to get a position against the enemy in his rear and flank and their progress was consequently slow. On Tuesday night they had reached no further than Staer, sixteen miles from Metz. These are the only facts positively known.

The London papers have some three hundred words of war despatches this morning and less fresh than American papers have every day.

There is immense acticity at the Paris defenses. Laborers are absolutely swarming on the fortifications. It is hinted that this measure of strengthening the works is due more to the wish to keep the dangerous class busy than to any actual fear.

[Special to N. Y. Times.]—I have just received express information from trustworthy sources relating to a series of combats in which the French have been engaged for the last three days, which do not appear in official dispatches or newspapers. Fighting commenced at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, just after the Emperor's departure. The battle was brought on by the Prussians attack on Gen. Frossard's division, which was in the act of withdrawing from its position. The 4th corps, under Gen. L'Admirault, which formed the left wing of the army, sustained the brunt of the engagement. The attacked force was under Prince Frederick Charles and General Steinmetz.—While the 4th corps was occupying the attention of the enemy the French army continued the retreat, which was effected in the most orderly manner.

Marshal Bazaine exposed himself in the thickest of the fight and had his horse killed under him and is said to be slightly wounded in his foot. The execution done by the French mitrailleuters was fearful. Four regiments of the Prussian guard were nearly exterminated. Three or four French journalists shouldered their muskets and fought gallantly side by side with the soldiers.

NAVAL ENGAGEMENT—THE PRUSSIANS REPULSED.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Advices have just been received here of a naval engagement off the coast of the Island of Bazer in the Baltic. One division of the Prussian fleet consisting of an aviso and the gunboats Draiche, Blitz and Salamander yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock encountered the French fleet, consisting of four armored frigates, corvette and an aviso. The Prussians soon withdrew without loss. The French fleet is now off Dombrusch.

THE DEMANDS OF PRUSSIA.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A well-informed diplomat says that Prussia will exact no surrender of French soil, but will insist on the exclusion of the Bonaparte family from the throne of France.

The other terms of peace are not reconcilable with French amour propre, including doubtless a partial reimbursement of the cost of the war.

It may be added that the political restoration of the House of Orleans is curreutly discussed as public. The French Ambassador at Brussels has refused Francois Hugo, a son of Victor Hugo, a passport to Paris.

THE TIMES SPECULATIONS

The Times eloquently called for aid for the French and German wounded. It says that future results depend upon the development of the reserves of the hostile powers, and declares that the transfer of Alsace to Prussia would violate the sacred principles of national sovereignty and conflict with a permanent restoration of peace.

A better tone generally prevails in the Liverpool market.

At Antwerp confidence is restored and business has resumed its ordinary course. The German dealers in petroleum and others connected with the American trade are especially confident and look forward to a favorable result of the war. The French continue to report the last Prussian loan a failure.

It is believed the Emperor is also on his way to this country by the same track. He does not dare to return to Paris.

The Parting.

BY MILES O'REILLY.

Sadly from my host I parted,
Stiff he was, but genial hearted;
And a tear unbidden started,
As I lingeringly delayed:
There the mother's cool before us
Prim as ever, and decorous,
But her eye a meaning bore us
Kinder than her tongue conveyed.

Round the supper room, the glowing
Logs a fitful light were throwing;
While the night breeze, hoarsely blowing,
Murmured through the circling trees,
"Friends, adieu! I must oppose you!
Ill repay the debt he owes you,
If your guest should now expose you
Unto draughts so rude as these!"

Cruel Laura seemed delighted
At my leaving—"Ill requited
Love!" I thought, and yet she lighted
Me, departing, to the door;
Suddenly—or now is saying
How—the breeze, a frolic playing,
Blew the light out—and delaying
Grew more pleasant than before.

Dank and cold the midnight drizzle,
"One adieu! I hear the whistle!"
Something seemed to strive and wrestle,
As we tore ourselves apart:
What took place, I have no inkling,
For my ear was smartly tinkling;
And an ether soul seemed mingling,
Life-conducted, through my heart.

Nixon's Soap Works,

Cor. Greenleaf and Everett Sts.

EVERY one that uses Nixon's French Electric Laundry Soap, admits that it is the best washing soap in the market, making a soft and fluent lather, leaving the skin soft and pure and the linen exceedingly white without injury. It is made from a french receipe and contains no adulteration. All who have not used it, give it one trial and you will say it is superior to any soap in the market.

MEDICAL.

TO PHYSICIANS.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubets extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now to use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle, having a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

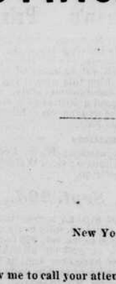
Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience.



(From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.)

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion, The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

SCHOOL VACATION.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

PERSONS who have been speaking with the undersigned in regard to regulating their children's teeth, and were waiting until vacation, will please have them call at once, so that as much as possible may be accomplished before the next term.

Recognizing as I do the importance of more attention to the development and preservation of the children's teeth, I have decided that in connection with the treatment and filling of teeth to give special attention to the children.

It is impossible for the children to have handsome and healthy, permanent teeth, where their first set is allowed to decay; that being the case, it becomes important that parents should use every possible means for the preservation of the first teeth, thereby keeping them in their places, until the permanent ones demand their removal.

Having practiced my profession in Portland for the past sixteen months, and received the patronage of some of the first physicians and families, to whom I have the honor of refering, I wish to publish a few of the many letters I have from gentlemen occupying high professional positions, and it is very gratifying to be recommended by so worthy a person as our American Consul, Judge Jackson, or the great physician and surgeon of British North America, Hon. D. McNeil Parker, M. D. Office at my residence 74 Free Street, Portland, one door north of Dr. Dana's.

O. P. McALASTER, D. D. S.

CONSULATE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AT HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA, 15th September, 1863.

I have much pleasure in stating that I have known Dr. O. P. McAlaster for several years as a Dentist in Halifax, and that he has always occupied a high position both as a Dentist and good citizen.

M. M. JACKSON,
U. S. Consul.

HALIFAX, March 16th, 1870.

I hereby certify that Dr. O. P. McAlaster, formerly of this city, but now of Portland, Maine, some years since very successfully treated a member of my family whose teeth were irregularly placed in the jaw; the result has been permanently satisfactory.

I may add that Dr McAlaster practiced general dentistry in Halifax for some years very successfully.

New Method of Washing Clothes without the labor of rubbing.

O. F. STEDMANS Patent Wash Boiler now on exhibition at A. N. Noyes & Son's, No 12 Exchange st.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles. It is self-acting, and dispenses entirely with the rubbing and wear of clothes. The hot suds and steam, by the action of the fire, is poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing them perfectly. It has been thoroughly tested, and pronounced unequaled as a Clothes Washer by those who have used it. All fabrics, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket, can be washed perfectly and whole, without rubbing. For Flannels, it is invaluable, as the rubbing, rolling and pressing process must necessarily ruin them more or less. It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. R. A. BIRD,

PRIVATE MEDICAL ROOMS

No. 14 Preble Street,

WHERE he can be consulted privately, and with the utmost confidence by the afflicted, at hours daily, and from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Testimonials to the Public.

Every intelligent and thinking person must know that remedies handed out for general use should be of their efficacy established by well tested experience in the hands of a regularly educated physician, whose preparatory studies at him for all the duties he must fulfil; yet the country is flooded with poor nostrums and cure-alls, parrised up to be the best in the world, which are not only useless, but always injurious. The unfortunate victim of the PARTICULAR in selecting his physician, as it is, is innumerable yet incontrovertible fact, that many syphilitic patients are made miserable with ruined constitutions by mistreatment from inexperienced physicians in general practice; or from a point generally conceded by the best syphilographers, that the study and management of these complaints should engross the whole time of those who would be competent and successful in their treatment and cure. The inexperienced general practitioner, having neither opport
